Chairman's Message

A Member asked me if this column was difficult to write. The answer was "yes". It is apparent that I am limited to writing in an informative manner on matters relating to the Club "wrecking is easy, writing is hard". The majority of columnists thrive on behind the scene gossip plus political comment malicious and otherwise. Leave out malice which to me is like jealousy, one of the deadly sins and see how easy it is to write on politicans. I recall the words of Benjamin Franklin to his Cabinet. — "We must indeed all hang together, or most assuredly we shall hang separately" —

Politicans are always "Fair Game" because they are public men and make news. For example a snide quip at broken vows is to write — "We all know that Prime Ministers are wedded to the truth, but like other wedded couples they sometimes live apart". — I recall a gentleman and a very able Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, whose reputation was smashed by a woman Christine Keeler whom he had never met or heard of. (The Profumo Affaire) This is a genteel magazine or I would have described Miss Keeler in one apt word.

As I write this epistle the radio informs me that over 200 people have been arrested in a protest march at Brisbane. Gee, I could write a column under the heading "Police v. The People". Why are people rude to Policemen. It is wise to remember — "Never insult the crocodile until you have crossed the river" —

Now down to business — Our next Race Meeting will be held on New Year's Day, Monday the 1st of January, 1979, at Royal Randwick. Your Committee has decided that any interested Member may obtain FREE two admission tickets to the "Saddling Paddock". The tickets are useable by both Ladies and Gentlemen. As the first race commences at approx. 2.00 p.m. Members have ample time to arrive at the course after an enjoyable long weekend. Take advantage of this offer, leave your name at the office or telephone Miss Bell (26.2049) and your tickets will be left for you at the Reception Desk. It is written that — "The race is not always to the swift nor the battle to the strong" — but don't bet that way.

You will find enclosed with this magazine a personal letter to each Member. Please read same and if in a position to do so act immediately thereon. The facilities of the Club have been maintained, the decor improved and your subscription for the year ending 29th February, 1980 remains unaltered. Remember that gratitude is the most exquisite form of courtesy.

Members frequently state "I am a good Tattersall's man". If you are, please look at the centre page of this magazine and join in the joy and happiness of Christmas at your Club. Come to the Xmas Cocktail Party on Wednesday the 20th of December and bring your friends. After the party the whole of the first floor will be open to Members and their guests. There will be the usual Xmas Wheel plus poker machines etc. The Wheel will be in the Club Room opposite the main Bar. To avoid the hustle of purchasing tickets near the Wheel, there will be tables situated, around the room where tickets for each spin may be readily purchased. Don't miss this chance to renew old friendships and make new friends. Our Secretary Norman Smith has expended time and energy in acquiring prizes of much higher standard than in former years. A photo of some prizes appears in this issue. Thank you for a job well done Norman. Like all Secretaries Norm is keen to protect the funds of the Club and has a pet saying "Money does not grow on trees". If this is correct please tell me Norm why "Banks have branches"?

This is my last message prior to Christmas 1978. Christmas is a time of happiness and enjoyment. To every Member and his family on behalf of my Committee and myself I wish a Merry Xmas with good health and happiness for the New Year.

May I with humility suggest a mediation for Christmas and a resolution for the New Year.

"Where there is hatred, let me sow love; Where there is injury pardon; Where there is despair, hope; Where there is darkness, light; Where there is sadness, joy;

With every good wish.

Jim Comans, Chairman.

Vino very best for 1979

As beautiful indian summer, with freak warm and sunny weather throughout the ripening and harvesting periods, is credited with creating one of the best vintages of the past decade.

Italian wines will have more body and alcoholic strength than usual, but growers say that despite general excellence of the vintage the prices the comsumer will have to pay for wine should remain stable.

Bad weather at the start of the summer raised fears that it could be a disastrous year for Italy — one of the World's largest producers of wines and vermouths. The grape crop was delayed by up to three weeks.

But the exceptionally fine autumn weather has now retrieved the situation and paved the way for a vintage of exceptional quality.

Mr Bruno Ceretto, a leading wine producer in the north Italian region of Oiedmont, predicts a vintage that will be superior to that of the now-famous 1971. "It would be a year to remember," he said.

In Piedmont, however, the quantity of wine produced will be far lower than usual. Some wine-makers speak in terms of a drop of between 15 and 20 per cent. Others fear it will be as high as 40 per cent below the average.

So that should lead to a sharp increase in the prices of such prestige wines as Nebbioli, Barbaresco and Barolo — red wines which go well with roasts and other meat dishes.

The quality is described as "excellent."

White wines from the northern areas of Trentino, Alto-Adige, and Friulil-Venezia Giulia are particularly recommended. They promise to be a good buy from the standpoint of both quantity and quality. But here, too, the prices are expected to be higher than last year.

Mr Bonifacio D'Aristotele, who produces wine at his family estate in the central Italian province of Abburzzo, said: "The beautiful weather of the past few weeks has saved the situation. Even now it's just like summer. The quality is well above average and as far as we are concerned the quantity is good too.

"If anyone wants to lay in a stock of wine, I would seriously suggest he buys several bottles of Italy's 1978 vintage. He won't go wrong. My wines, for instance, are far 'heavier' than usual."

Court cases aren't exactly helping the NSWCA either. Legal expenses amounted to $31,603, another reason why some cricket officials are suggesting a compromise is not far away.

NSWCA's "bonus" is the England – Australia Test series this summer when they expect to pick up a healthy bundle.

But when you think about it, will they?

While interest in the series will be motivated by the mere fact that Australia is playing England, success will depend on the standard of play since many of the world's best players are with Packer.

NSWCA president Alan Davidson sees the ensuring year as one that will be "of even greater challenge."

Looking back on the past year, Davidson understated that it was "a difficult year."

Which is not a bad way to describe the biggest upheaval in cricket.

Shirley In Sydney.

Shirley Maclaine — Superb Actress . . . is the way most Australians regard her: She has a magical writing flaire too.

Author of a best seller plus a book on her political involvement in America and China "You Can Get There From Here."

This narrative is required reading of all universities of People's Republic and many western schools.

That's an impressive achievement for any writer. Shirley is a top flight dancer comedian and a real movie star.

Miss MacLaine agrees that the southern in particular the Virginian, tradition (Five presidents and all that) had a strong influence in making her want to be a writer. "Most southerners are good story-tellers. My father was: in fact, all southern Bapists are. The cultural intensity of the south (terrific writers come from there) is so much richer than elsewhere. I think it's inevitable that if you are a southerner you end up telling stories in books or on stage.

Forecast For The Future.

Don't be suprised when you drive through the Hunter Valley — and find Shirley there with her daughter (already living — in the grape country.)

Cardiff Cricket Cap.

"Alec Bedser's story told on Harold Larwood's 70th birthday at an MCC cricket reception in Sydney . . . On a very windy day at Cardiff, Glamorgan were playing Nottingham with Larwood bowling to Davies, Glamorgan's opening bat. In hooking a ball from Larwood, Davies dislodged a bail but nonchalantly replacing it said to the umpire, 'Wind be b-a-a-d today, Harry.'

"'Aye,' was the umpire's immediate response, 'mind it dawn't blow off thy c-a-a-p on way to yon pavillion!'"

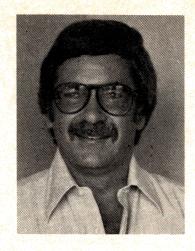

Is There's a Fishing Bonanza Down Eden Way?

The Australian fishing industry is often criticised for lack of initiative in failing to fully exploit the rich fishing grounds off the continent. A large proportion of Australia's fish supplies (about $132 million worth a year) is imported, mainly from Europe. Almost all of Australia's frozen fish, fish fingers and other prepared fish products come from overseas.—

HOW TO FIGHT A COMMON COLD

We can put a man on the moon but curing a common cold is harder. Chills, damp days and changes in temperature must cause many colds, much annoyance, loss of working time and aches and pains. Simple measures can quickly get you back to recovery.

Most Australians have two to three colds a year, and in the mid-winter season these are at their highest level.

Sudden cold snaps, wearing inadequate clothing, leaving heated offices for cold, windswept streets in the evening, getting wet and not adequately drying off — all those give the ever-present cold virus a chance to gain a foothold in the system.

Reduced body temperature (even for short periods) and a lowered resistance to infection enable the viruses to establish themselves. Within a few hours the symptoms are apparent.

A running nose, blocked air-passages, sore throat, swollen glands under the jaw, and a cough are the usual symptoms.

Frequently there is a fever, and aches and pains all over the body and in the joints let you know disaster has struck!

After a day or two, as the germs spread, other complications set in.

Pain under the eyes and behind the cheeks indicates infected sinuses, a common follow-on.

Earache suggests that the germ has clambered up the eustachian tubes and gained access to the middle ear.

A worsening of the cough, and production of thick greenish-yellow material, lets you know bronchitis has developed.

Acute stabbing pains over the chest, worse when you breathe, indicates that you may have developed pleurisy, an inflammation of the tissue lining the lungs.

Breathlessness, fever and fatigue added to all this suggests that pneumonia may have developed.

Never disregard any of these symptoms. They are all important, and even in this antibiotic era some are still fatal.

What to do when the germ strikes? Take the sensible way out and go to bed. A few days there, away from your normal environment, is the quickest and best way to recover.

It also keeps you away from other people and therefore limits the spread of germs.

Drink lots of fluid, preferably water-based ones. Water, orange drink, lemon juices are good. They help rid the system of dead germs and toxins which are producing the symptoms.

Go easy on food, specially fat-containing ones. In fact, a few days on liquids only is a good idea.

Paracetamol tablets (2 x 500 mg for adults, less for children) reduce elevated temperatures and help aches and pains to varnish. These may be repeated 4 to 6 hourly.

Aspirin (2 x 300 mg tabs) is similar, but should be taken after food to avoid nausea. They often make you sweat profusely, and can be uncomfortable.

Asprin is unsuitable for children under six because gastric irritation (and a risk of bleeding) is possible.

For the cough, simple elixirs are often suitable. Pholocodine in any of its commercial variations is helpful, for adults and children. From 10 to 15 mls every few hours, plus when the cough worries, is a good rule - of -thumb dose. Check the label.

A quick luke-warm shower or bath each day removes dried sweat from the skin and makes you feel much better. Dab the body dry with a soft towel. Have somone handy in case you suddenly feel faint, or flake out. With the current virus bug, this has often occured.

Let the world roll by for a day or two – reading and watching TV often aggravate vision, so forget them.

Some find large doses of Vitamin C (such 1,000 to 5,000 gm a day helpful; others dispute its value, but it is worth a trial and will do no harm.

Call the doctor of the symptoms persist or pains (particularly in the chest, head or ears) are aggravated.

You may require antibiotics.

These will not cure a common cold but will certainly be valuable if sinister complications set in. In some cases, they are life-saving.

In most cases, you can look forward to a return to normal living within five to seven days.

Member Ted Westbury sent Melanie Miss to Grasslands Stud at Cambridge, N.Z. in April 1975 and mated her with Battle Waggon, the result being a chestnut colt.

Melanie Miss is out of a Tulloch winning mare and won at Randwick, Canterbury and Hawkesbury.

Ted was over there late November to look his new "baby" over.

The reports from the stud say the yearling filly (full sister to the colt) is one of the best seen for years at Grasslands.

The colt is in training at Te Rapa being trained by Graeme Rogerson, New Zealand's leading trainer this season.

Ted hopes that the colt will keep up the good work of winning as he has had only two horses, Rhythm Rock and Melanie Miss and both were Randwick winners.

A fine gentleman named John McGowan recently arriving from America. He reckons his member mate Neville O'Neill is a good judge. Neville in consulation with John Inglis came up with a mare called Kristy Lane — 10 starts 5 wins is the tally so far. The abdication filly will bear watching when she comes to town.

Nice to see good things happen to good members.

ANOTHER GREAT GOLF DAY

Tattersalls Club Golf Club held their October meeting at this well groomed North Shore Course.

80 players enjoyed the facilities offered.

Bill Hunt and John Todman proved the best four ball players with 46 points a top score in good conditions. Runners up Sid. Lodder and John Rowe played solid golf too.

lan Buckle had a great single score to take the members with 39 — Handicappers please note.

Geoff Eastment in his easy going style struck the ball well for 37 points to finish with 2nd prize. Prizes for the day had a different flavour. Wine and Spirit to be exact. Tattersall's Club Golf Club expressed thanks to United Distillers Tom Dickman for his support for the day.

Jim Henderson — of Dewars fame and a good Tattersalls Club supporter added his contribution too — thanks lim

Like its slogan "Born 1820 still going strong"the Johnny Walker prize was very happily received in the strong hands of visitor Dennis Wall. Wine was substituted as prizes in lieu of golf balls. Many of the "trophies" found their way or to the dining table where some many members gathered after golf.

Singles winner Ian Buckle won the Drambuie prize and was highly delighted with has trophy.

The pet seagull flying round the course noted —

Kevin Simmonds catching a ball as he bent over to pick up his own ball — it caused great merriment and not a lot of pain to the unfappable Kev. Brian Cassidy an eager bearer trying his heart out — but it wasn't his day.

Golf Secretary and acting Treasurer

Rod Fisher did a magnificant job looking after everyone with a minimum of fuss method (which is Rod's Trademark).

Keen Ken Upton makes me think if prizes were given for trying he'd be a champion — his smile is always there — win or lose.

Club members visitors included some excellent sporting names — R. Lane, R. Bell, E. Wright, E. Trenchard-Smith, T. Love, W. Garne, G. Davis, C. Hewitt, K. McKinnon, A. Foster, C. Pearce, D. Hann, Williard Hunt, J. Furlong, W. Hogg, K. Abrams, K. McElhore, I. Guest, H. Kelly, R. Scott, P. Darby, K. Humphrey, J. Knight etc, etc, etc.

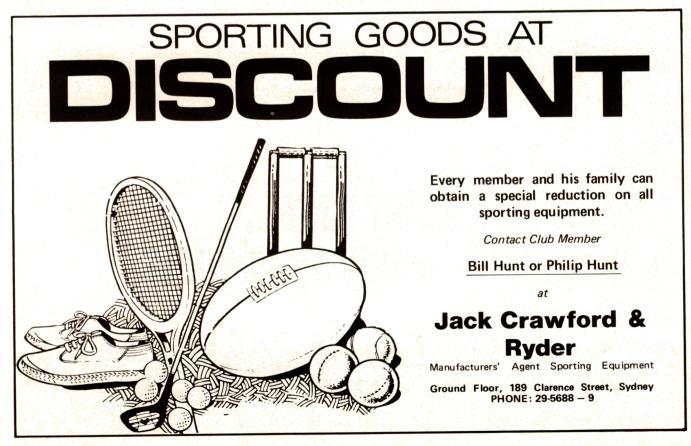

Championship Day come up at Manly and you'll get a full report of proceedings.

Here are the scores in detail

The Dewars Fourball

Winner Bill Hunt, John Todman 46. Tanquay Runner up Sid Lodder, John Rowe 43. The Drambuie Singles Ian Buckle 39, White Wine Runner up Geoff Eastwood 37. Johnny Walker Visitors Dennis Wall 36.

Note on the one prize one man basis John Rowe 38 points John Todman 37 points were indigible.

Billiard and Snooker Club Champions by Syd Lane

BILLARDS: First — Warren Simpson; Second — George Mousally; Third — Adrian Abbott; Fourth — Jim Burke.

SNOOKER: First — Phil Darby; Second — Bill Andreas; Third — Graham Adams; Fourth — Bill Richard.

offer We all our hearty congratulations to the winners and the place-getters and a very special credit must go to Phil Darby for winning the Grand Snooker Tournament two years in a row - an all time record. The only other member to approach this performance is Lee Bluett who had two wins but not in successive years. Lee also got through to the quarter finals this year. Both these very able contestants are worth buying at future Calcutta auctions, irrespective of the damage to their handicaps, and it is interesting to note that on each occasion both these players have owned themselves in the Sweeps.

There were many suprises and upsets throughout the event, and most notable since we last went to press was the defeat of Bobby Lavigne by Bill Richards - after conceding 22 start Bobby caught and passed Bill with one red left. This, of course, made Bob favourite and quote a few bets were laid at long odds-on; but Bill kept his cool and battled on calmly to eventually come out on top, and then continue to the semi-finals when he was toppled by Bill Andreas after seeming to have this match sewn up. These upsets which can usually be related to the frowns and smiles of Lady Luck add to the fascination of the game, and the continuing interest of the spectators.

The Billards final was the most interesting for many years and was fought out by our two best apponents of this skilful art — Warren Simpson (200 behind) and George Mousally (70 behind). Warren's best break in the final was 88, but in earlier rounds he had made 148 and 96 unfinished. In the final George made a very nice break of 58 but Warren was too consistent with a very high average "per visit". In an earlier round George had a most interesting victory over Dick Thorne. Dick had shown his best form and was leading 243 to 178 and appeared to be a certainty, when George visited the table and made a delightful break of 73 unfinished to snatch victory!

So far as the championships are concerned, they are still in progress as I write these notes and the only surprise to date is the defeat of Warren Foster by Jack Mater. Jack won the first frame comfortably; Warren won the second with even greater ease. Warren appreared to be well in command right through the final frame and was in the strong position of being 32 in front with one red left. lack fought back to be 15 behind on the blue, then suddenly castastrophe set in for Warren - he clean missed the blue and left lack a "free ball". Jack potted the black for 5, then the blue and pink to win.

Presentation of prizes will take place towards the end of November and this function will add "finish" to another successful and enjoyable series.

Billiards and Snooker 1938 Flash Back

In the billiards final the contestants were W. Hannan (170) and L. Haigh (120). It was anyone's game right to the end. There was a period when Hannan lost complete touch and his opponent quickly put on 64 points while he stood still. But the winner was not as yet in evidence.

Finally game was called with the scores 250-238 in Haigh's favour, representing a finish close enough for the most exacting.

A similar state of affairs obtained in the snooker section, when G. Chiene (60 met and defeated B.M. Levy (65).

In this contest the final was best two out of three, and the winner clinched matters by taking the first and second games.

In the play-off for third prizes, C.E. Hall (95) won the billiards, and I. Green (60) the snooker. Thus ended two of the most successful tournaments in recent years.

HANDBALL NOTES

BONDI WINS TATT'S PLATE

Bondi Icebergs, in their first ever Tattersall's Plate win, completely outclassed the field in this years prestigious event. The Plate holder, since the events inception, has been regarded as the state singles champion.

The Bondi players treated the remainder of the field in cavalier fashion to provide both finalists.

Norman Rogers, Tattersall's handball president, initiated the Tattersall's Plate competition and it has always held pride of first place in the handball itinerary.

This years entries were restricted to clubs affiliated with the One Wall Handball Association of N.S.W.

First round results: Ron Rogers defeated Norm Rogers 31-17, Reg Chappell beat Bill Blakemore in a marathon 31-25, Ray Hopskins won against Ron Evans, Frank Caldwell won a thriller against Ken Glass 31-27, Gary Stubbs stormed to a great win over Bill Sellen 31-17, Don Hudson was too steady for George Inman winning 31-21, Jim Campbell won by default and Noel Vella caused the upset of the round by defeating Neil Rogers in the longest and closest match of the round 35-33.

Quarter final games saw ace left hander Gary Stubbs matched against Bondi's Don Hudson but it was curtains for Don with Gary at his best. His left hand drives were breathtaking in their accuracy and speed and allowed Don little opportunity to attack which is his natural game. The final score was 31-22.

Noel Vella hit top form early in his match with Jim Campbell and proved an awkward opponent. Noel clinched the game 31-21.

Reg Chappel caused the upset by inning a game of patience against Ron Rogers 31-28.

The Ray Hopkins — Frank Caldwell clash was a sparkling affair with both players constantly attacking. Ray earned his 31-28 victory.

The semi-finals were classics in providing every facet of handball.

The Red Chappel - Ray Hopkins semi saw two veterans matched but Reg played a patient, accurate game that foiled his opponent's creaseless attack. Ray, as usual, entertained the gallery with an all round the court display of continuous hand hitting.

Ray carried an injuiry that affected his power in the later stages of the game which saw Reg forge to a 31-21 victory.

Gary Stubbs and Noel Vella proceeding to punish the ball as though it were a convicted murderer.

Noel was underdog but he matched favourite, Gary in power and tenacity and he won his way into the final in an exciting game 31-28.

In the final, although always difficult to defeat, Reg Chappel was not wiley or accurate enough to match big hitting Noel Vella.

Noel won the serve and immediately took charge with an impressive display of speed hitting leading 3-2 at the service charge and continuing his early supremacy by taking a 7-3 lead after Reg's serve. The early trend continued with Noel playing superbly to establish a 7 points lead at 12-5.

At this stage, Reg commenced an attacking spate which momentarily gave him a point lead at 14-13, again at 15-14 and then 18-17.

At this stage, Reg commenced an attacking spate which momentarily gave him a point lead at 14-13, again at 15-14 and then 18-17.

This was as close to victory as he would be allowed and Noel proceeded to lengthen his lead until the final score 31-22.

In all his games Noel had led early, allowed his opponent to draw level and then lead. He was playing so confidently, however, that he was always able to regain the lead.

CLUB CHAMPIONSHIPS A Grade

Semi-finalists Neil Rogers and John McGuire gave an entertaining display of handball before Neil clinched a final berth.

Neil gave an accurate display of almost fault-free handball to take the first set 21-7 but John really hit his straps in the second stanza winning 21-15. Neil settled down in the decider and playing a risk free game went on to win 21-13.

Charlie Robinson is always hard to beat and he proved this fact once more in his semi final with Ken Glass. Ken, although on target with his big hitting could not unsettle Charles tenacity and he lost the first set 14-21. Charlie faultered slightly in the second set and went down 13-21 but both players were at their top in the final with Ken the eventual winner 21-19.

Neil's steadiness and accuracy won the final against Ken whose angle hits were again a delight to watch. The final score was 21-12, 21-16 in Neil's favour.

B Grade

John Bryrne beat Bruce Upcroft 21-15, 21-14 and he then beat Martin McCurrich in a semi final 21-8, 21-12. John was right on target in this match and martin had difficulty handling John's big game.

Charles Griffiths won a close semi final against John Barnes 21-19, 21-18.

The final John Bryne — Charles Griffiths clash was a close fought game although only running to straight sets. Charlie was able to contain the John Byrne power but could not force him into errors. The final score was 21-14, 21-19.

C Grade

Gordon Salier defeated Les Hams 21-14, 17-21, 21-8, and then beat brother Doug in a semi-final 15-21, 21-21-17, 21-18.

Stan Droder won the other semi against Neville Amy 21-18, 21-12, and he was successful in the final against Gordon Salier 21-17, 21-13.

Know Your Bookmaker

HOMER JONES Homer Jones Bookmaker schooled at Randwick Superior Public School. It's easy to say they helped produce a fine gentleman called "Homer." He commenced fielding in 1929 at the Greyhound and has the original race books. Today he "stands up" on the rails at Randwick, Warwick Farm and Rosehill and the Sir Clyde Kennedy stands at Canterbury. His son John works with him plus his grandson. He has the distinct honour of being the first Bookmaker member of Rotary International in the world. He has enjoyed 16 years of membership of Rotary. His sport off the course is his love for bowling espsecially City Bowling Club and Tattersalls. He is a credit to the Bookmaking section of the Sporting world.
